

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CHANTS

COMPILED FROM

THE AUTHORISED ENGLISH VERSION

OF

THE PSALMS.

PREFACE.

THE Chants in this book have been compiled from the authorized English version of the Psalms, with a few slight variations in the words, such as the sense seemed to require. Nearly every passage has been introduced which it was thought a Christian congregation would desire to sing, and the selected verses will be mostly found in the order in which they stand in the original compositions. In the same manner, whatever portions of any Psalms have been used have been kept as nearly as possible together. There are, of course, considerable omissions: few of the Psalms could be reasonably employed throughout in Christian worship. Out of the number of a hundred and fifty, only twenty-nine have not been used at all, and there is about an equal number that furnish little more than occasional lines or phrases. A few passages were passed over, which, though containing admirable sentiments, could not be brought into the required rhythm; and others that seemed altogether unsuited for public congregational use. The table at the end will shew from what Psalms the compilation is made.

The words printed in italics are those for which no distinct note in the music is provided. They will be sung in the manner of recitative, leading up to the note following. Most of the Chants are divided so as to allow of a portion only being sung if they should be thought too long, which probably will not often be the case. The Doxology, with which the Chant properly ends, is left to be fixed by selection from the seven forms given in the supplement; but whichever Doxology is chosen, should be invariably used for the particular Chant to which it is attached. In the same manner the music of each Chant should be always the same, the successful practice of chanting depending very much upon the facility with which it is done.

Deliver me O God ... thou God of my sal : vation
And my tongue ... shall sing a : loud of thy : righteousness.
O Lord ... open thou my : lips

TE DEUM LAUDAMUS.

We praise thee, O God : we acknowledge thee to be the Lord.
All the earth doth worship thee, the Father everlasting.
To thee all angels cry aloud ; the heavens and all the powers therein ;
To thee Cherubim and Seraphim continually do cry ;
Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty :
Heaven and earth are full of the Majesty of thy glory.
The glorious company of the Apostles praise thee.
The goodly fellowship of the Prophets praise thee.
The noble army of Martyrs praise thee.
The holy Church throughout all the world doth acknowledge thee ;
The Father of an infinite Majesty ;
Thine honourable, true, and only Son ;
Also thy Holy Spirit, the Comforter.
Thou, O Father, art the king of kings ;
Thou art the Lord of hosts, the King of glory.
When thou didst determine to deliver man, thou didst send thy Son, our Redeemer.
When he had overcome the sharpness of death, he opened the kingdom of heaven to all believers.
He sitteth at the right hand of God, in the glory of the Father.
We believe that he shall come, to be our judge.
We therefore pray thee, help thy servants, whom thou hast redeemed in thy boundless love ;
Make them to be numbered with thy saints in glory everlasting.
O Lord, save thy people ; and bless thine heritage :
Govern them, and lift them up for ever.
Day by day, we magnify thee ;
And we worship thy name, ever, world without end.
Vouchsafe, O Lord, to keep us this day without sin.
O Lord, have mercy upon us ; have mercy upon us.
O Lord, let thy mercy lighten upon us, as our trust is in thee.
O Lord, in thee have I trusted ; let me never be confounded.
